BOY BITTEN IN TRYING TO STOP A DOG FIGHT.

Canine Which Charles Foster Tried to Save Sank Teeth Into His Leg.

Charles Foster, 11 years old, of No. 922 Gratiot street, suffered the fate of most peacemakers yesterday when he attempted to interfere in a fight.

In Charlie's case, however, the fighters were not men, or even boys, but dogs. An admirer of canines, Charles could not bear the sight of one large bull terrier chewing the neck of a smaller dog not gifted with the powerful jaws of his adversary.

the powerful jaws of his adversary.

Rushing to the rescue of the smaller dog, Charlie began beating the built terrier, but instead or making nim release his grip only added to his madness, and, strangely enough, it was the dog that he was attempting to save that sank his teeth in the boy's leg.

The family physician cauterized the wound for Charlie. It was not regarded as serious. The owner of the dogs, a negro living in the vicinity, separated them.

the standard of admission to the bar is the fact that within recent years twenty-five States and Territories have created State boards of law examiners and nine others have adopted some plan whereby they are endeavoring to establish a higher standard. The creation and work of these boards | 160 cards for $1. have materially assisted in restoring the legal profession to a place among the learned professions, and the movement is steadily growing in popularity and power.

The meeting of the Association of American Law Schools at the same time and place as the American Bar Association have doubtless resulted, by the comparison of views Mr. Edward Busse of St. Louis and methods in great benefit to the teachers in these schools. sued instructions that the 250,000 high-grade imported and domestic rainproof Cravenette garments for men and women, which they have in stock, must be sold at 33 cents on the dollar. The St. Louis agents for the firms have rented, temporarily, the store on the northeast corner of Broadway and Pine street, where can be found every variety of Cravenette made in the latest style for the coming season, from the highest grade of Priestley's Rainproof Cravenette Cloth in all shades, colors and sizes.

Men's Cravenettes which generally retail at 12:50 are sold for $7.30, and the extra fine imported cloth, silk-lined raincoats usually selling for 35, can be had for $12.50. The prices of women's and children's Cravenettes are in proportion.

The company has placed in St. Louis 75,000 choice Cravenettes, of which 17.500 have been sold, leaving a stock of 60,000 to be disposed of at once.

In order that some idea may be formed of the size of this stock it may be assumed that a Cravenette averages five feet in length and three feet in width, making a total of about fifteen square feet of surface, which multiplied by 60,000 will make 500,000 square feet, enough to cover two floors the size of that contained in the Liberal Arts building at the Fair and leave 100,000 square feet to spare.

The officers of the two organizations have watched the exchange with surprise, but when they raw the friendly feeling such trades were making between the Canadian soldiers, who are a part of Great Britain's army the same as the Arkansas boys are of the United States soldiery, they made no objection.

Out at the World's Fair the Pusiliers are attracting the same attention as did the Arkansas troopers at Union Station yesterday afternoon because of the exchange in headgear.

"They're the finest fellows in the world," said one of the Arkansas boys, speaking of the Fusiliers. "We talked over the possibility of war between the United States and England and hoped that it would never occur, because we do not like the idea of having to shoot each other. But we agreed that if it ever came to the point we would try to mow each other down as if we had never met." ELECTION ODDS ARE STEADY.

In the last part of the week Republic an funds seemed to swamp the bettin market. Various stock houses announce that they had money to bet, but complained afterwards that there were no plained afterwards that there were not enough takers. Announcements like these have been made quite frequently.

Bunnell, Buchanan & Co. have the following commissions to place on the forthcoming presidential election: $2,000 even that Roosevelt carries West Virginia, $7,000 even that Roosevelt carries West Virginia, $7,000 even that Roosevelt carries New York State, and $20,000 on Roosevelt at 2 to 1 on the general result.

Democratic politicians say that when the State Senate and Assembly candidates have been chosen the interest will be augmented.

John Murphy Charged With Attempt to Take Mary Jeski Away From Policeman.

John W. Murphy of No. 1407 North Sixth street is a prisoner at the Four Courts, charged with attempting to take a woman prisoner away from Policeman Edward O'Brien at the patrol box at Fourth street and Lucas avenue early yesterday morn-incidentally, Murphy's head is swathed in bandages as a result of the fight he had with the policeman. The patrolman will also have to purchase a new coat for his uniform, as the garment he wore at the time was badly torn. The policeman's hand is bruised.

Patroiman O'Brien arrested Mary Jeski of No. 1827 O'Failon street on a charge of intoxication. He had taken her to the patrol box to summon a wagon in which to send her to the Fourth District station, when Murphy appeared, and, according to the patrolman, tried to take the prisoner away from him.

Soon the policeman and Murphy were engaged in a struggle, and the patrolman was forced to use his night stick to subdue his assailant. Two charges, interfering with an arrest and disturbing the peace, were placed against Murphy.
